ABOUT SHELLEY

Shelley Schonwald is a working medium and the founder of Your Medium, offering compassionate, evidential mediumship readings and mediumship development. Her work is centred on helping people feel a genuine connection with loved ones in spirit while creating a space that is grounded, warm and deeply human.

Born a medium, Shelley began her journey in Spiritualist churches, training with some of Britain's leading mediums. Starting her professional path as a spiritualist minister, she now brings more than a decade of experience in mediumship, along with a deep understanding of grief, loss and the profound emotions that can surround the end of life. Shelley has also worked with individuals facing terminal illness, as well as their families, offering compassionate mediumship and a space to explore connection, love and what may lie beyond this life.

Shelley brings an approachable, down-to-earth style to a subject that can sometimes feel intimidating or overly formal. Her focus is not simply on delivering information, but on the evidence, personality and small details that can make a connection feel personal, meaningful and real.

She also teaches developing mediums through online development sessions and mentorship, helping students build confidence, strengthen their awareness and understand the practical side of mediumship.

MEDIA-FRIENDLY ANGLE

Shelley is particularly well suited to conversations that balance the spiritual with the practical—warm, curious discussions that leave room for personal experience without taking themselves too seriously.

IN THEIR WORDS

> “That was the first session since my very first 5 years ago where I felt my relationship and bond to those family members in a very real way for what I've been missing. I just felt them with me, as you allowed for that space.”

— Client testimonial

> “My reading was very informative, confirmed some of the things I had been wondering about and gave me comfort. I left feeling calm and uplifted.”
